CLEVERNESS WINS FIGHT.

Montana Sullivan Jobs Flynn Good and Plenty.

Fireman Rushes Fiercely, But Does No Damage.

Webster Better Than Emick in Fast Bout.

Montana Jack Sullivan beat Jim Flynn, ten rounds.

Danny Webster beat Al Emick, ten rounds.

Joe Livermore knocked out Kid Murray, three rounds.

Joe Livermore knocked out Kid Murray, two rounds.

Montana Jack Sullivan beat Jim Flynn last night in the main event of the Pacific Athletic Club fight show at the Grand Junction. Sullivan was a fairly good boxer and more active on his feet than Flynn.

Sullivan was aggressive and willing and did all the forcing, but during his vain efforts to catch Sullivan, he was running away in every round, got many a jab in the face and many a right cross on the head and might have been knocked out if Sullivan had had any steam behind his blows.

The main event was a rough fight in a way and would have been worse if Flynn had been able to catch Sullivan. He chased him all the time, but the chasing was soundly repelled by Sullivan, it being really another Tommy Burns-Marvin Hart fight. Sullivan was never in danger at any time, apparently, although Flynn knocked him down in the third with a hard blow to the jaw.

He was down six seconds, but got right up and went to fighting hard again as if nothing had happened. Sullivan's agility was his salvation, for when Flynn tried to catch him, Sullivan would dance away and pepper Flynn on the nose with his left. He kept this up continually, and by way of variation would cross Flynn with the right, rocking his head from side to side. These blows were not heavy ones, however, for Flynn never backed up a minute, but forced the scrap in every round. He tried to wrestle and rough it at times, but Sullivan clinched and managed to keep out of trouble.

Flynn had the better of the third and sixth rounds and probably a shade in the last on his running, but Sullivan had a clear lead in all the other rounds. One round was much like another, with Flynn forcing his way in and Sullivan dancing around him and jabbing him on the nose. None of the blows landed on either man seemed to hurt very much.

WEBSTER WINS. Danny Webster had a fairly easy time of it, beating Al Emick of San Francisco in the ten-round semi-final, and might have done even better if Emick had not run away in every round. He is the human jumping-jack, and is certainly a fast sprinter, easily running away from the local boy in every round.

After the bout the club physician stated that Emick's left hand was damaged and Emick exhibited it to account for his poor showing.

Webster was the aggressor in every round and never let Emick rest a moment. He was on top of him from the first of the fight to the finish. Webster rushed six or seven times in every round and Emick gave him powerful blows in the eighth, ninth, and tenth rounds, but Webster, however, knocked him down in the fourth and seventh rounds and Emick went to the floor several times to escape punishment. Emick had the better of the fourth round, but that is about the only one in which he had any decided lead. It was a hot little scrap all the way, and really better than the main event, for there was better boxing and better work all through.

PRELIMINARIES. The curtain raiser, scheduled for four rounds between Joe Arnold and Kid Breen, did not last very long, for the referee stopped the fight in the second round. Arnold floored Breen in the first round and had him down again in the second, and seeing that Breen had no chance, the fight was stopped.

The second bout was also short and it ended in another knockout. Joe Livermore and Kid Murray were substituted for Jim Andrews and Jimmy the Greek. This Livermore-Murray scrap was a poor one for two rounds, and some of the spectators thought the boys were faking, for they did not fight fiercely. In the third, however, Livermore suddenly changed and came with a right to Murray's jaw, which knocked the boy down and out.

Two big bouts got together in the third bout of six rounds in which Jim Cameron, a big local negro, met Tod Reardon, a white man from San Francisco. Reardon was victorious only because he has curly blond hair parted coquettishly on one side, but this is all he has as a fighter. He was big, fat and awkward, and while he did practically all of the forcing, he could do little else.

Both men seemed to want to claw, and they slapped rather than punched each other. Cameron's favorite blow seemed to be a right-hand chop to the neck, but he jabbed Reardon many times in the nose. It was a wild and awkward exhibition and Cameron would have won a decision from a referee.

LOWELL REVISES ELIOT'S OPINION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) NEW YORK, June 1.—President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard University, in an address today at Columbia University on competition in college, expressed views on athletics and the elective system in college essentially at variance with those held by his predecessor, Dr. Charles W. Eliot.

President Lowell's address indicated his belief that physical training for collegiate football and other sports, and participation in the games, was a beneficial and essential part of the college curriculum.

The address was for a contest of forty-five rounds, if the mill takes place in Nevada or any other State west of the Rocky mountains. The articles call for 65 per cent. to the winner and 35 per cent. to the loser, the stakes to be $10,000. No date is decided on for the fight, but it probably will be in September. Labor Day may be selected.

JEFFRIES TO SIX ROUNDS. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) PITTSBURGH, (Pa.) June 1.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Jim Jeffries will fight six rounds in Pittsburgh on the night of June 15 with an opponent not yet named. Manager A. S. McGowan of Duquesne Garden this afternoon closed arrangements by long-distance phone with New York and the contract was signed for six rounds.

It is understood that the champion of the world will receive $4000 for his part in boxing six rounds. The immense gate money taken in by the recent Ketchum-Gann fight (almost $12,000) has caused Jeffries to decline to sign his second meeting, but when he came to signing he declined to take a chance on percentage.

Jeffries declined to say with whom he is dickering to meet Jeff.

MURPHY BEATS BALDWIN. BOSTON, (Mass.) June 1.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) "Harlem Tommy" Murphy outclassed Matt Baldwin of Charleston in his twelve-round contest at the Army Athletic Association tonight. Murphy forced his way in and Sullivan winning the first on a decision, which has always been questioned by Murphy. Their second bout resulted in a draw.

WILLY SHERIFF WAXES WROTH. WILL NAB ALL SPEED MANIACS WHO TRY FAST RUNS.

Santa Barbara County Official, Backed by Channel City Auto Club, Will Lie in Wait for Los Angeles Autopiles in Effort to Cause Them Trouble and Delay.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SANTA BARBARA, June 1.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Sheriff Stewart has determined to put an end, as far as Santa Barbara county is concerned, to automobile speeding. The arrest of Rene A. Brasseyn on San Francisco-Los Angeles sprint last week was a decisive action on the part of the sheriff at the behest of auto backers of Santa Barbara Auto Club, which frowns upon speeding.

In Brasseyn's case he was expected to break the law as well as the record, and as he did both in going through Santa Barbara county, the sheriff got him. So sure of getting him was the sheriff that he had prearranged all formalities, such as making out warrants of arrest, filing bail bonds and having everything ready at police headquarters, so that when the racer appeared he could be quickly arrested and within less than three minutes interruption was on his way.

Short Sheriff Stewart intends to reverse this programme. He will delay the bail formalities so long that the racer will be unable to get away. Judge Risor's decision last week in favor of Nat Moore, son of the flock leader, indicated who the racer was, and the validity of the auto speed ordinance, leaves this city without regulations other than those provided by State law.

Observing that H. O. Harrison, a Los Angeles driver, plans a record attempt in a Peerless car, Sheriff Stewart is not a Peers car, Sheriff Stewart is not a Peers car, Sheriff Stewart is not a Peers car.

POLO PLAYER MIFFED. One of the Best Men in England Refuses to Contest Against Americans.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) LONDON, June 1.—Walter Buckmaster, who is acknowledged to be the best polo player in Great Britain, has declined to play for England in the games with the Meadowbrook, (L. I.) team that begins here June 23, for the American polo cup.

It is explained officially that Buckmaster, who is a member of the Stock Exchange, has declined to play because he has curly blond hair parted coquettishly on one side, but this is all he has as a fighter. He was big, fat and awkward, and while he did practically all of the forcing, he could do little else.

Both men seemed to want to claw, and they slapped rather than punched each other. Cameron's favorite blow seemed to be a right-hand chop to the neck, but he jabbed Reardon many times in the nose. It was a wild and awkward exhibition and Cameron would have won a decision from a referee.

TAXICAB VICTIM DIES.

Special Agent of Telephone Company, Hit by Machine in April, Succumbs to Injuries.

F. A. Morley, special agent of the Sunset Telephone Company, who was struck by a taxicab driven by Albert Boark at Pico and Hill streets on the night of April 27, suffering a basal fracture of the skull, died yesterday afternoon at the Hospital of the Good Samaritan.

On the night of the accident Morley was going to his home at No. 1318 Hill street and had just alighted from a Pico-street car. Blinded by the lights of the approaching taxicab, which was traveling at high speed, he hesitated for a moment in the path of the machine, which whizzed past him, the side of the vehicle striking Morley and hurling him to the pavement.

Boark stopped his machine, but, as he had passengers, the injured man was taken to the Receiving Hospital in another taxicab, which was passing.

Morley leaves a wife and little daughter, and also a brother in Los Angeles. He came here several years ago from the East and had been in charge of the private exchange department of the telephone company.

FOR JAIL CALLERS.

Supervisors Order Waiting-room for Women, at County Jail—Two More Nurses Authorized.

A waiting room for women will be furnished in the County Jail. There are so many men in that cavernous place at present, many of them formerly distinguished in financial circles, that their friends, especially women, find it quite embarrassing to pay their afternoon calls.

For some time the women have been forced to sit in a row along the upper corridor and it is hard for a loving prisoner to greet an emotional wife or sweetheart under such circumstances, as the occasion sometimes demands.

The Supervisors also created the position of male nurse in the County Jail. Superintendent Whitman of the County Hospital will name the man.

Another position, for a head female nurse for the operating room in the County Hospital, was also created.

NOTABLE SURPRISE.

JUDGE ROSS WEDS MME. IDA HANCOCK.

MADAME IDA HANCOCK, the wealthiest woman in Los Angeles, as well as one of the most brilliant, has been chosen by the city fathers to be the bride of Judge Erskine Ross, one of the distinguished men of California, were married yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the parlors of the Cathedral of St. Vibiana.

Mr. Harnett performed the ceremony, the only witnesses being Judge Ross's son, Robert Erskine Ross; George Allen Hancock, son of the bride; her sister, Mrs. Otella Flood; Hancock Banning and A. M. Stephens.

The marriage, though contemplated for several months by the principals, was a great surprise to a wide circle of acquaintances; even the closest friends were not apprised of the date.

Judge and Mrs. Ross have known each other for many years; the families have moved in the same social circle, and have been identified with Los Angeles since the early days.

The bride and groom are each 60 years of age. Each is accomplished and personally delightful, and the match is a most happy one.

LOOK FAR FOR LINK.

MAY SOLVE EASTERN BRACELET MYSTERY.

IT MAY BE that the mystery of a missing bracelet, much wanted in Providence, R. I., will be solved through a discovery made in this city last night. The bit of jewelry, which had a design rarely seen in the stores, was stolen from the body of a girl slain in the eastern city May 10.

What object the thief had in taking the bit of treasure is what the officers of several States are striving to learn. That it was just a plain piece of theft is thought to be unlikely, but what other inducement it offered to the one who took it has not been made clear.

The search for the missing bracelet, extended across the country by police bulletins, led last night to the arrest of Charles Barr at First and Los Angeles streets in a peaking car. The remains were taken to Pierce Bros.' morgue, where an inquest will be held today.

CARS KILL WATCHMAN.

Just before midnight a watchman in the employ of the Pacific Electric Railway, was found dead at 4 o'clock yesterday morning on the car tracks at Sixth and Olive streets. His head was crushed and the right leg cut off. Espinoza was guarding the tracks, where construction work has been in progress, and it is supposed he either fell asleep or was taken sick and was struck by a passing car. The remains were taken to Pierce Bros.' morgue, where an inquest will be held today.

SENATOR H. M. WILLIS.

State legislator, recently of San Bernardino county, who yesterday qualified an Assistant United States District Attorney.

WILLIS GETS PLACE.

Senator from San Bernardino and Inyo Counties Named Assistant United States Attorney.

State Senator Henry M. Willis, who represented San Bernardino and Inyo counties in the last two sessions of the Legislature, received his commission yesterday as Assistant United States District Attorney, succeeding A. J. McCormick, who became United States District Attorney when Oscar Lawler was called to Washington as Assistant Attorney General.

Willis immediately took the oath of office and entered on his new duties.

Though he has lived nearly all his life in San Bernardino county, where he was born in 1871, Senator Willis is well known throughout the state. He now is a resident of Los Angeles, with his wife and two children.

Willis is a son of the late Judge Henry Montague Willis, a pioneer in California and Arizona. The son graduated from the University of California in 1893 and for one term attended the Hastings College of Law, being admitted to the bar in 1895.

He practiced law for six years at Phoenix, Ariz., and served one term as Assistant District Attorney of Maricopa county. Returning later to San Bernardino, he was Assistant District Attorney of that county from 1898 to 1907, relinquishing that position upon his election to the State Senate.

During the last session of the Legislature he was chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, in which he made an excellent record.

COSTLY.

AUTO SPEEDING ENRICHES CITY.

NINE THOUSAND DOLLARS FINES SINCE YEAR BEGAN.

Indications That All Records for Penalties Will Be Smashed Before Its End—Motorcycle Squad Wants Speeder Machines so They Can Overtake Additional Offenders.

Automobile and motorcycle drivers afflicted with the speed bug paid $1150 into the city treasury during the month of May, through the medium of the police courts. At the rate which the motorcycle cops are hailing offenders into the courts all records will be smashed this year.

Since January 1 a trifle more than $9000 has been collected in fines. In 1908 the total for the year was $12,000, and for 1907 the fines aggregated $10,000.

The motorcycle squad is complaining, too, that its old machines are too slow to keep up with the fast autos and the new ones are too slow to keep up with the fast autos and the new ones are too slow to keep up with the fast autos.

The officers are willing to risk their lives and limbs on powerful seven-horse-power machines, which can be given 100 miles an hour, if the Council will provide the equipment.

Because of the two-and-a-half-day vacation in the police courts an unusually large number of speeders were before Police Judge Frederickson yesterday morning. Among the number was Police Surgeon E. H. Garrett, who paid a fine of $10 for sending his machine along San Pedro street at twenty-eight miles an hour while returning from the races at Ascot Park on Monday.

As he paid the fine the doctor remarked that it was worth the money to learn that his "chug-chug" could travel at that rate. However, the doctor had demonstrated that previously, according to the cops, as he had passed a heavy Pope-Hartford and trim little Durocar on the way in, of which makes of cars he had seen do some speeding a short time before at the track.

Others who were fined yesterday for speeding are: W. H. Landis, $25, suspended one year probation; L. A. Dittler, $10; E. M. Roe, $10; F. L. DuBrooy, $5; James N. Paullo, second offense, $10; F. E. Gullaney, $25, second offense; G. A. Doyle, $25, suspended one year probation; C. Lawrence, $25, second offense; H. Helms, $25, second offense.

CARS KILL WATCHMAN.

Just before midnight a watchman in the employ of the Pacific Electric Railway, was found dead at 4 o'clock yesterday morning on the car tracks at Sixth and Olive streets. His head was crushed and the right leg cut off. Espinoza was guarding the tracks, where construction work has been in progress, and it is supposed he either fell asleep or was taken sick and was struck by a passing car. The remains were taken to Pierce Bros.' morgue, where an inquest will be held today.

SENATOR H. M. WILLIS.

State legislator, recently of San Bernardino county, who yesterday qualified an Assistant United States District Attorney.

WILLIS GETS PLACE.

Senator from San Bernardino and Inyo Counties Named Assistant United States Attorney.

State Senator Henry M. Willis, who represented San Bernardino and Inyo counties in the last two sessions of the Legislature, received his commission yesterday as Assistant United States District Attorney, succeeding A. J. McCormick, who became United States District Attorney when Oscar Lawler was called to Washington as Assistant Attorney General.

Willis immediately took the oath of office and entered on his new duties.

Though he has lived nearly all his life in San Bernardino county, where he was born in 1871, Senator Willis is well known throughout the state. He now is a resident of Los Angeles, with his wife and two children.

Willis is a son of the late Judge Henry Montague Willis, a pioneer in California and Arizona. The son graduated from the University of California in 1893 and for one term attended the Hastings College of Law, being admitted to the bar in 1895.

He practiced law for six years at Phoenix, Ariz., and served one term as Assistant District Attorney of Maricopa county. Returning later to San Bernardino, he was Assistant District Attorney of that county from 1898 to 1907, relinquishing that position upon his election to the State Senate.

During the last session of the Legislature he was chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, in which he made an excellent record.

Indications That All Records for Penalties Will Be Smashed Before Its End—Motorcycle Squad Wants Speeder Machines so They Can Overtake Additional Offenders.

Automobile and motorcycle drivers afflicted with the speed bug paid $1150 into the city treasury during the month of May, through the medium of the police courts. At the rate which the motorcycle cops are hailing offenders into the courts all records will be smashed this year.

Since January 1 a trifle more than $9000 has been collected in fines. In 1908 the total for the year was $12,000, and for 1907 the fines aggregated $10,000.

The motorcycle squad is complaining, too, that its old machines are too slow to keep up with the fast autos and the new ones are too slow to keep up with the fast autos.

The officers are willing to risk their lives and limbs on powerful seven-horse-power machines, which can be given 100 miles an hour, if the Council will provide the equipment.

Because of the two-and-a-half-day vacation in the police courts an unusually large number of speeders were before Police Judge Frederickson yesterday morning. Among the number was Police Surgeon E. H. Garrett, who paid a fine of $10 for sending his machine along San Pedro street at twenty-eight miles an hour while returning from the races at Ascot Park on Monday.

TAXICAB VICTIM DIES.

Special Agent of Telephone Company, Hit by Machine in April, Succumbs to Injuries.

F. A. Morley, special agent of the Sunset Telephone Company, who was struck by a taxicab driven by Albert Boark at Pico and Hill streets on the night of April 27, suffering a basal fracture of the skull, died yesterday afternoon at the Hospital of the Good Samaritan.

On the night of the accident Morley was going to his home at No. 1318 Hill street and had just alighted from a Pico-street car. Blinded by the lights of the approaching taxicab, which was traveling at high speed, he hesitated for a moment in the path of the machine, which whizzed past him, the side of the vehicle striking Morley and hurling him to the pavement.

Boark stopped his machine, but, as he had passengers, the injured man was taken to the Receiving Hospital in another taxicab, which was passing.

Morley leaves a wife and little daughter, and also a brother in Los Angeles. He came here several years ago from the East and had been in charge of the private exchange department of the telephone company.

FOR JAIL CALLERS.

Supervisors Order Waiting-room for Women, at County Jail—Two More Nurses Authorized.

A waiting room for women will be furnished in the County Jail. There are so many men in that cavernous place at present, many of them formerly distinguished in financial circles, that their friends, especially women, find it quite embarrassing to pay their afternoon calls.

For some time the women have been forced to sit in a row along the upper corridor and it is hard for a loving prisoner to greet an emotional wife or sweetheart under such circumstances, as the occasion sometimes demands.

The Supervisors also created the position of male nurse in the County Jail. Superintendent Whitman of the County Hospital will name the man.

Another position, for a head female nurse for the operating room in the County Hospital, was also created.

NOTABLE SURPRISE.

JUDGE ROSS WEDS MME. IDA HANCOCK.

MADAME IDA HANCOCK, the wealthiest woman in Los Angeles, as well as one of the most brilliant, has been chosen by the city fathers to be the bride of Judge Erskine Ross, one of the distinguished men of California, were married yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the parlors of the Cathedral of St. Vibiana.

Mr. Harnett performed the ceremony, the only witnesses being Judge Ross's son, Robert Erskine Ross; George Allen Hancock, son of the bride; her sister, Mrs. Otella Flood; Hancock Banning and A. M. Stephens.

The marriage, though contemplated for several months by the principals, was a great surprise to a wide circle of acquaintances; even the closest friends were not apprised of the date.

Judge and Mrs. Ross have known each other for many years; the families have moved in the same social circle, and have been identified with Los Angeles since the early days.

The bride and groom are each 60 years of age. Each is accomplished and personally delightful, and the match is a most happy one.

LOOK FAR FOR LINK.

MAY SOLVE EASTERN BRACELET MYSTERY.

IT MAY BE that the mystery of a missing bracelet, much wanted in Providence, R. I., will be solved through a discovery made in this city last night. The bit of jewelry, which had a design rarely seen in the stores, was stolen from the body of a girl slain in the eastern city May 10.

What object the thief had in taking the bit of treasure is what the officers of several States are striving to learn. That it was just a plain piece of theft is thought to be unlikely, but what other inducement it offered to the one who took it has not been made clear.

The search for the missing bracelet, extended across the country by police bulletins, led last night to the arrest of Charles Barr at First and Los Angeles streets in a peaking car. The remains were taken to Pierce Bros.' morgue, where an inquest will be held today.

THE OIL INDUSTRY. BILLIKEN IN SANTA MARIA.

Company Seeks to Buy New Pennsylvania Land.

Stockholders Are Said to Be Unfavorable.

Broker Attacks Management
and Urges Sale.

At the New Pennsylvania Petroleum Company's meeting on the 9th inst., an effort may be made by some of the stockholders to effect a change of management and to force a more definite statement of the company's affairs than, it is alleged, it has been possible to get in the past. S. T. Kelley, Jr., a Los Angeles broker, who sold a block of New Pennsylvania stock, is agitating the matter. There will also come up for acceptance or rejection an offer from the Billiken Oil Company to buy the company's sixty acres in the old Santa Maria field.

Mr. Kelley wants a statement along the following lines:
(a) Disposition of and receipts from company's capital stock of 100,000 shares; (b) total deliveries of and receipts from oil with monthly deliveries since sales started; (c) exact status of present sales contracts; (d) physical condition of property, including condition of all wells, finished or in course of drilling; (e) statement of total receipts and expenditures to date; (f) terms of acquisition and present condition of Cat Cañon property.

The Billiken's first proposition, which was turned down, was that it take over the New Pennsylvania property for $200,000 worth of 6 per cent. bonds and 100,000 shares of Billiken stock, to be distributed to New Pennsylvania stockholders. Then the following was submitted on April 29:
That New Pennsylvania deed Billiken sixty acres old field with all equipment; the Billiken to start three wells within ninety days, and to develop the field to a specified number, to be agreed upon later, be completed, the Billiken giving bond for fulfillment of this agreement; that the Billiken issue $200,000 worth of 6 per cent. ten-year bonds secured by first mortgage on New Pennsylvania property taken over and also constituting a general charge against all other assets of the Billiken; $200,000 worth going as commission to Mr. Kelley and the balance to be pro-rated to New Pennsylvania stockholders; and that the Billiken deposit 100,000 of its shares in the bank of Santa Maria, to be held for three months, then $10,000 to go to Mr. Kelley as commission, the balance to be pro-rated to New Pennsylvania stockholders.

In a circular of April 23, Mr. Kelley attacked President T. H. Finley and strongly recommended the acceptance of the Billiken's offer, on the grounds that it relieves the New Pennsylvania from all the expense of field development; that it gives the New Pennsylvania $40,000 a year in interest on the bonds for ten years; that it is based upon gross production without reference to net profits; the Billiken taking all the risk; besides the speculative value of the Cat Cañon eighty acres and the 100,000 Billiken shares. In a second circular of May 13, Mr. Kelley very materially modified his attack on Mr. Finley, saying that he did not question the latter's motives or good intention, but only his judgment; also, he retracted his statement that the New Pennsylvania was practically bankrupt, saying that its properties are good for all indebtedness and a margin over and above. He says he was misinformed as to the amount owed. In the second circular of May 12, Mr. Kelley admits that the consensus of opinion seems to be opposed to accepting the Billiken's offer, the idea being that the oil tract can be developed and yield more revenue than $40,000 a year. Mr. Kelley expresses the belief that the present directors will carry out any policy that stockholders indicate a wish for.

Midway Work.
The Oil Crude has resumed drilling its No. 1 on the southwest quarter of 22-23 near the Crandall well, on which it suspended temporarily some weeks ago at about 700 feet. On the 21-22, the Crandall well, some company, on the northwest quarter, leased from the Western Crude, is down about 1000 feet. The Western Crude has its rig on the northwest quarter of the same. The California Midway is down 1650 feet and in blue clay on the northeast quarter of 22, on a direct line with the Crandall well. The west side of section twenty-five has finished its No. 1 at 1200 feet and it yielded well on the pump for a little while, then it sank and was abandoned. It was thought to be good for 150 barrels a day, but it was never sufficiently tested to prove anything. The West Side's No. 2 is in oil sand at 1400 and No. 3 down 800 feet.

Beverly Well's Troubles.
The Beverly Oil Company's stockholders met today to decide what to do with the property northwest of Beverly and north of the Country Club. When this company was formed it let a contract to a Mr. Sloane to drill 1700 feet. He lost his tools when he was over three-fourths completed and a fishing job followed, lasting for months. At last, the company found the drill around the obstruction but when the job was within fifteen feet of completion a second accident occurred and another set of tools was lost. Creditors then seized Mr. Sloane's outfit and he had to quit when victory was almost in his grasp. The company has the hole but it may be cheaper to start afresh. The indications, it is said, are not encouraging and the fact that the Union is down 2500 feet on the Consolidated Petroleum well to the south and nearer the developed belt with no commercial results, does not add to the hopes of success.

Oil Man Accused.
PITTSBURGH (Pa.) — [Exclusive Dispatch.] For the arrest of Daniel E. Mack, of Bakerfield, Cal., Senator Johnson of Indianapolis and three Pittsburgh men, officials of the California Kern Oil Company of Bakersfield, warrants were issued here today. They are charged with conspiracy to defraud. David R. Penn, fiscal agent of the oil company, is complainant. The information for the arrest of the five men follow the issuance of $20,000 worth of 6 per cent. bonds of the company. Penn alleges that he used $2000 of his own money to help float the bonds, it being represented to him that he would receive his back and a salary of $400 a month for financing the deal. A short time ago he became suspicious and sent a Los Angeles man to investigate the tract owned by the oil company. Instead of its being proved property, Penn declared it is simply a cactus farm and the working implements consist of five wheelbarrows. (The property of the California Kern, referred to above is ten acres on 8-23-28, proven land, although near the southern edge of development and little worked for years. The company's internal troubles have been varied more or less during the past year. Mack was removed by the stockholders from his place as manager a few months since.)

THE INFERIOR COURTS. DEALERS FIGHT PURE FOOD LAW.

DENY OBLIGATION TO OBSERVE
PROTECTIVE MEASURE.

Fourteen wholesalers and produce dealers today filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus against the pure food laws by exposing their wares for sale without properly protecting them from flies and dust, appearing before Police Judge Chambers yesterday afternoon for examination, but on the request of their attorneys were given until Thursday to enter their pleas. Eight other wholesalers for whom warrants have been issued on the same charge will be summoned to appear also on that day.

The complaints were made by Frank Oakley, State pure food inspector, who will make the case a test. The defendants will fight, on the ground that they are not in the retail business and that the goods which they displayed were not for sale, but only for show purposes. The merchants who appeared in court yesterday were: E. R. Rivers, No. 211 Towne avenue; E. P. Christian, No. 523 West Seventh street; Frank Simpson, No. 249 Central avenue; L. G. Zeiser, No. 237 Central avenue; P. M. Young, No. 407 South Broadway; J. H. Doyle, No. 265 Central avenue; C. F. Marston, No. 263 Central avenue; M. L. Goldvogel, No. 228-229 Los Angeles market; S. Smith, No. 224-225 Los Angeles market; Jacob R. Eldridge, No. 18-19 Los Angeles market; E. L. Krause, No. 447 Los Angeles market; Joseph Pittino, No. 128-129 Los Angeles market; E. M. Weyl and A. M. Klein.

Taylor Hearing Set.
Russell Sanders, alias George W. Taylor, who was arrested in San Francisco a week ago on the charge of passing a forged cashier's check for $45 on the Hayward Hotel, was arraigned before Police Judge Chambers yesterday and his hearing was set for the 7th inst. Bail was fixed at $100, which Taylor was unable to furnish.

Defies Curfew Law.
For the first time in local police history a parent was arrested yesterday for refusing to compel his minor child to obey the curfew law. After being instructed by probation officers, the parent is James Urgo, residing on Goyette street, who allowed his 13-year-old son to sell papers on the streets after 9 o'clock at night. Urgo was arraigned before Police Judge Frederickson and his examination was set for the 7th inst. The case will be made a test.

Scales Under Suspicion.
Charged with defrauding customers by means of inaccurate scales, William Hofer, a fruit dealer, No. 145 West Fifth street, and T. Nelson, who conducts a meat market at No. 653 South Main street, were arraigned yesterday before Police Judge Frederickson. Their hearings were set respectively for the 2d and 7th insts. Police assert that Nelson's scales register two pounds when the actual weight is only one pound and fourteen ounces.

Liquor Law Fractures.
Four liquor dealers, arrested Sunday for illegal selling of liquor, were in Police Court before Judge Frederickson yesterday. G. W. Faminich, proprietor of the Old Queen liquor store at No. 122 North Main street, and his clerk, John Restovich, pleaded not guilty, and will be given hearings, respectively, on July 7 and July 8. Each furnished $100 bail. E. Ritman, proprietor of the Park Café at No. 802½ West Fifth street, and John R. Pene, proprietor of a winery at No. 815 Macy street, each paid a $100 fine.

Cruelty to Horses.
M. Mollett and R. Bollinger, teamsters, paid $15 fines in Police Court before Judge Frederickson yesterday for cruelty to horses which they were driving.

Negroes Accused.
Heed Embree and Herbert Jackson, colored, were arraigned before Police Judge Frederickson yesterday on a statutory charge preferred by Bertha Paschall, 14 years old, and were held for examination tomorrow. Bail was fixed at $200. Eight colored boys, under 18 years of age, are held in the Detention House on the same charge.

Low Penalty for Shot.
Andris Cano was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 or to serve twenty days in jail by Police Judge Chambers yesterday on the charge of assaulting Fernando Martinez of No. 750 Gibson street on April 12 by shooting him during a quarrel. Owing to lack of evidence the charge against Cano was reduced from assault with a deadly weapon to simple assault, to which he pleaded guilty.

Levy Case Goes Over.
The examination of H. Levy, charged with stealing a diamond pin valued at $75 from H. Davis while the two were riding in a hack, was continued yesterday by Police Judge Chambers until the 5th inst.

Jap Trials Set.
Forty-four Japanese restaurant keepers, who were arrested in the police raid of May 23 for illegally selling liquor, were arraigned before Police Judge Chambers yesterday afternoon. Their cases were set for dates, extending through the month of July. Most of them will demand jury trials. Bail was fixed at $100 for proprietors and $50 for clerks.

AN UNDECORATIVE DECORATION.
A man residing in the neighborhood of Sixth and Flower streets, said yesterday, that while this "cleaning crew" held the city office he hopes they will get their weather eye on that corner. An even dozen of nondescript old road carts, wagons, buggies and carts, decorated the corner, and the space up to the sidewalk. Tall weeds and grass grow under them and the whole outfit is not worth the cost of moving them and cutting down the weeds. They have been there for a year, and become an eyesore, according to the people who have the right constantly before them. The city will surely photograph the spot and carry the picture home as a curiosity.

For a Still Greater Wireless Plant.
ONTARIO, June 1.—[To the Editor of The Times.] Referring to the account of plan for "Greatest Wireless Plant" in the issue of the Sunday Times, May 29, the writer wishes to state some facts going to show where a wireless plant can be erected for the benefit of this Coast—such a plant would make the one mentioned look like 30 cents.

In Cochise county, Arizona, about twenty-five miles west of Bisbee, is a short, detached range of mountains. All the large cañons except one are on the easterly slope. This range starts out with grassy plains along the base all around it, being only a few miles in length, and rising to great heights only short distances from the plains. Fort Huachuca is in the most northerly easterly cañon while next easterly along the range is Ramsey, adjoining this a small, short one is Carr Cañon. Some five miles easterly along the range is Maple Cañon, up which is a good wagon road two miles above the mouth of the reservoir of the Huachuca Water Company. From this point about two miles farther up, the Huachuca Consolidated Development Company, a mining company, has built a wagon road to the top of its reduction works. Beyond this are only pack trails. One going up this cañon goes on his right a high peak called "North Peak," and on his left a higher peak called "South Peak." The end of the road at the works of the mining company being a little to the west of a line from one peak to the other. Still farther west, at the extreme head of the cañon, is another peak called "Middle Peak," from which so down the heads of three cañons—Ramsey, Maple, and on the south side of the range Bear Cañon, in which at a large spring, is the source of the River San Pedro.

This peak is 10,475 feet in altitude, as the writer saw it yesterday, by an aneroid in the hands of a surveyor. North Peak, a mile or so easterly, is higher, while South Peak is higher than North Peak, being by government measurement, over 11,000 feet. I state these facts that it may appear how easy this peak is of access. It can be reached from the works of the Huachuca Consolidated Company to less than three miles and, comparatively light cost structural steel and other material can be delivered on top. The ascent can be made on horseback. The wife of the writer was the first woman to "do" it on horseback, and others have since.

Now at this high point—above fog or mist or cloud—only when a storm is on, which is always brief duration—a steel mast can be planted in the solid rock, just as high as may be thought necessary, and by thought waves or stray wireless messages can be sent about in that latitude they will surely strike, fast on grand old South Peak. There is no single point on the continent having a finer view and from which can be seen so many towns and cities of the Southwest as this. Magdalena Bay is only a few hundred miles from this point, and if the wireless shaft of less than a thousand feet above sea level can, as designed, collect from a radius of 200 miles, how far is it reasonable to suppose they can be persuaded to come in from the mast on the noble Huachuca Mountains. The writer knows every acre of this range, and there are men in Los Angeles who can verify every statement herein. Doubtless the government of Arizona would aid in such an enterprise, if the United States government should decline. In any case, the facts are deserving of investigation.

DEATH ACCIDENTAL.
A verdict of accidental death was returned by the Coroner's jury which yesterday investigated the death of Elmer Carlisle, who was drowned Sunday in a pool of water between Monte Vista and New York streets, near Adams street. Funeral services will be held this morning at 10 o'clock at Breese Bros' chapel. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

STREET NAMES CHANGED.
Most avenues and parkways, view avenue were wiped off the map yesterday by the Supervisors and hereafter the avenue leading from West Adams street on a tangent northward, and way past West Eighth street, outside the city limits, will be known as Crenshaw avenue. The name it now bears for a short distance from West Adams street.

SAD JOURNEY EAST.
Police Judge H. H. Rose, accompanied by his son, Augustus, tragically died yesterday morning on the Salt Lake Overland with the remains of the judge's wife, Gertrude, of nondescript old road carts, wagons, buggies and carts, decorated the corner, and the space up to the sidewalk. Tall weeds and grass grow under them and the whole outfit is not worth the cost of moving them and cutting down the weeds. They have been there for a year, and become an eyesore, according to the people who have the right constantly before them. The city will surely photograph the spot and carry the picture home as a curiosity.

POSSIBILITIES OF DESERT.
Prof. Tinsley Sees Great Opportunities in Cultivation of New Mexican Lands.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
CHICAGO, June 1.—The mesas and high plateaus of New Mexico, long considered as desert and worthless, are inviting territory for dry farming, according to Prof. J. D. Tinsley, soil physicist and field expert of the New Mexico Agricultural College. According to Prof. Tinsley, dry farming methods, while never dignified with any title, are not new in New Mexico. The Mexicans and before them the Indians, have practiced them for generations, especially in the culture of corn and beans.

The Indians, who first taught these lessons, usually chose ground at the lower end of arroyos, thereby taking advantage of the natural mulch of the soil and the moisture left by the flood waters. The Mexicans called the work in their regions "temporal farming," long before the title of dry farming was applied.

Many Mexicans have made a special study of the preservation of moisture and are very successful. The Indian, however, makes little or no effort to aid nature in the storage and conservation of the moisture in the soil. That he has for the recent American farmer, such as Professor Tinsley, to work out.

Give the Bride
California
Cut Glass

This glass is cut in native designs, such as the oak and the thistle, which are not duplicated in any other cut glass productions.

These inimitable patterns, and the perfection with which they are cut, gives this California glass a distinction above all other cut glass, and, therefore, makes it particularly fitting for wedding gifts.

We control the entire output of this exquisite cut glass for Southern California, and show a splendid variety of practical and useful pieces in designs that have heretofore been impossible in cut glass.

We also show many elegant and unusual pieces in engraved rock crystal, which makes wedding gifts of the highest order.

GIRL LONG MISSING.

Mother of Mary E. Rowe on Verge of Insanity from Grieving for Her Daughter.

Another is added to the many school girls who have recently disappeared from home, to the great distress of their parents and friends.

Miss Mary E. Rowe, daughter of Mrs. E. Rowe, North Cucamonga is the last to be reported. She is a comely girl of eighteen years, about five feet four inches tall and weighing probably 120 pounds; has light red hair, rosy cheeks and light brown eyes.

Miss Rowe was a student at the Pomona High School and expected to graduate in the June class, but because she had fallen back in one of her studies, she was told that she would fail. She grew very despondent, and on Friday morning, May 21, she left the

AND FANCIES
FOR MONEY

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

The people who feel the heat most are those who suspend all ordinary emotions and put in their time trying to keep cool. The heat for the second season allows themselves to lose the benefit of the fact that it is hot and uncomfortable. They keep talking about it and roaming over the house trying to find a cool spot, and run out on the porch every five minutes to look at the thermometer, and watching the clock to see when it is for the sea breeze to spring up, and they shed half their ordinary attire.

Why, the hottest woman I ever saw was one who simply suspended all ordinary emotions and put in their time trying to keep cool. The heat for the second season allows themselves to lose the benefit of the fact that it is hot and uncomfortable. They keep talking about it and roaming over the house trying to find a cool spot, and run out on the porch every five minutes to look at the thermometer, and watching the clock to see when it is for the sea breeze to spring up, and they shed half their ordinary attire.

The coolest places I found yesterday were in the stores. It was almost like walking into a refrigerator to step from the street into the interior of the stores. And such a lot of us as they were, too. I imagine that two out of every three women in town were out yesterday morning to take advantage of the bargains offered after the two-day vacation. I found them everywhere—both the women and the boys—and I tell you it takes a day yesterday to bring human nature to the surface.

I had barely stepped from the car when a stranger remarked: "Hot, isn't it? Seems if I should melt," and she shifted the perspiration from her face, and shifted her long, satin-lined coat to the other arm, while she tucked her long gloves and tucked her handkerchief inside her high linen collar to protect it from the perspiration.

She deserved to be "hot." It made "hot" to look at her. It's a crime against the public to array yourself in such garb on a day like yesterday. I met another woman and she was crying her eyes out. "My husband, poor old fellow," she said, "my husband, poor old fellow, has to wear his no matter how hot it is, so I thought it was no worse than for him, poor fellow."

Mark and Forget Warmth. The coolest, most comfortable person I saw anywhere yesterday was a woman who had a big plate-glass store window. Just met a woman who assured me as she stepped from her automobile that she thought she would faint if she had to walk half a block. "John" had stepped back to take a final squint at this window and, as he stood in the porch, I said: "Warm work, isn't it?"

"Warm? No, heap velly cool—watch me shine," pointing with pride at the shaded pane. The perspiration was dripping off his face, but he was so interested in his work that he did not notice the heat.

The woman who looks cool these days is a boon to her fellow-women all the world at large. It is a duty to society to look and act cool, well, but as comfortable as we can. A woman who wears a red ribbon and a day outfit to be ostracized. What the color of the sea and the sky, green, the color of the grass and the color of the water, and the color of the breezes and waving fields and smiling breakers—but, best of all, her white—if you can pay your laundry bills.

Ingance at a Dime a Dozen. One of the big stores has just gotten a line of beautiful paper embroidery, so cleverly done that at a glance you would pronounce them genuine linen. Some of them have the elaborate drawn thread designs and come in various colors, and some have the color of the sea and the sky, green, the color of the grass and the color of the water, and the color of the breezes and waving fields and smiling breakers—but, best of all, her white—if you can pay your laundry bills.

Warning Children's Clothes. Such dear little French frocks for kiddies as I saw yesterday—some sheer French lace, and some with work on the finely tucked yoke, and some in colors—ginghams and blues and periwinkle—were only a little from 2 to 5 years—and only 15c. I could hardly believe it for they were one of the most exclusive stores. Just how they are offered special bargains in their children's department. Then there were some charming little frocks, trimmed in blue and white, and cut with the low, square collar, and short sleeves now so popular, and so comfortable, and some with the revival of the revival of old times. Nothing is more bewitching in the dimpled arms and necks of children, and are welcome with the revival of the revival of old times. Yourself downtown, and for the lot of 40c, can get little daughter a dozen pretty frocks all ready to wear.

For yourself there are some handsome gingham dresses, some quality and some in the window of one of the big stores yesterday some of the best bargains in lingerie waists I have seen. The price mark was $1.25, and they were dainty and sheer, with fine French embroidery medallions. There are also going on just now a lot of muslin waists at several of the stores. Unless one does need a waist, it is really not worth while to wait these days, for one can get the garment finished at practically the same price as the material.

Delicious Dessert. I was visiting a friend the other day, and she served a dessert that literally left me with a mouth. For these warm days, nothing I ever tasted seemed so cool and refreshing and with a touch of richness and richness and richness. I begged her recipe for it. Beat the yolks of four eggs till they are light, and add one cup of simple syrup. Place in a double boiler over hot water, and stir away on low heat. When perfectly cool, add a part of whipped cream and the whites

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

PASADENA.
OFFICER'S WIFE
SEES HIM DIE.
PATROLMAN INSTANTLY KILLED
BY SANTA FE TRAIN.

Mrs. Slade, Waiting for Husband to Come to Birthday Dinner, Witnesses Tragedy—Proposed Attempt to "Weed Out" Candidates for Education Board Causes Stir.

Office of The Times, No. 25 S. Raymond Ave.
PASADENA, June 2.—Standing on the veranda of her home, two doors north of the Santa Fe tracks on Madison avenue, waiting for her husband, Patrolman Jack Slade, to come to her birthday anniversary dinner, Mrs. Clara A. Slade saw him killed by San Bernardino local train No. 45 at 7:15 o'clock last night.

Slade approached the railroad tracks on his bicycle, and did not see the rapidly approaching train. The engine hit the rear wheel of his machine and the pilot bar is supposed to have hit his head. His skull was crushed and he died instantly. The body was tossed seventy-five feet and both legs were broken.

The remains were removed to Ives, Warren & Salisbury's undertaking establishment. Funeral arrangements have not been made, but the body will be in charge of the police department and Pasadena Encampment, No. 1, D.O.F., No. 4.

Police men will wear mourning bands on their coat sleeves today.

While investigating a burglary at the Los Robles station of the Santa Fe, a little more than three years ago, Slade met Miss Clara A. Agelino, who was then ticket agent there. He fell in love with her and married her. He was born April 17, 1871, in Milwaukee, Wis.

Before joining the police force, to which he was appointed June 4, 1905, Slade worked for two years as a government ranger in the vicinity of Pine Flat. An instance of his bravery was his arrest in January, 1904, of a former convict, E. Langdon, who had stolen two horses in Monrovia. Langdon was armed and more muscular than Slade, but the officer pulled the man out of his saddle, wrestled with him and finally put him in the stocks.

"Slade was the ideal police officer," said Chief Favour last night. "He was probably the best all around man in the department."

MODERN NEWSPAPER.
At the final meeting of the year of the Men's Club of the Presbyterian Church, last night, Rev. M. J. McLeod spoke on "The Modern Newspaper."

Dr. McLeod was, as usual, trenchant and interesting. His address made a hit. Among his comments were these:

"The work of the newspaper is to public property, and we are all interested in it. It is in a sense our daily food. It has become almost indispensable. They are our books. They serve us a banquet every morning, every evening. We all partake. We make as much use of it as the paper boy gives us the slip as if the chicken maid goes out for a walk and does not return. Sometimes we think the meal is not very nourishing. Indeed, sometimes we go further, and think that some of it is harmful. But of that anon. The influence they wield is enormous. They are our friends; they are our teachers; our critics; our judges; our educators; our leaders of thought and action. Roger Bacon said to have trouble when he discovered gunpowder, and for a time to have suppressed the discovery. I can well imagine an editor trembling as he holds his pen and contemplates that what he is writing will be read tomorrow morning by 50,000, maybe 60,000 people. He must be careful. To think of the possibilities for good or evil that lie in that steel stylus is enough to make any man tremble. Certainly it ought to make him tremendously serious."

"The North putting of a great metropolitan daily is to me an illustration of never-ceasing wonder. There is not another brain worker in the world, I am tempted to say, who carries the burden of the editor. The politician turning a campaign makes about fifty millions, but it's the same old story over and over. The only thing new is the audience. If a Congressman makes four or five speeches a session he is admired. George William Curtis once said: 'It takes me months to prepare a lecture, and how a clergyman can get up two sermons a week is a mystery.' But here is the editor. Every morning or evening that paper must appear, and it must be different from yesterday's issue and all the yesterday's issues. There are no vacations in the journalistic world. The sanctum is never closed. It is a stupendous, a colossal undertaking."

EDUCATIONAL STR.
A citizen's mass meeting has been called for this evening at the Board of Trade rooms to make an attempt to "weed out" the large number of candidates now before the Board of Education. Election takes place Friday. It is held by those fostering this meeting that with nine candidates in the field, three having been chosen at a citizens' meeting and six running independent, there is danger that the Board will be split that the Socialist ticket will win.

This public summons is the result of an impromptu meeting at the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon, at which a committee, composed of Lon F. Chapin, H. W. Hall and O. T. Nichols, was appointed to interview the various candidates at large and on the citizen's ticket, and to report at tonight's meeting.

CALLS IT "FRAME-UP."
Dr. W. A. Cundy, an independent candidate, expresses his opinion of the so-called citizens' meeting in forceful terms. "It is nothing but a frame-up," he said last night. "Pasadena is growing a political ring that ought to be busted, smashed—and you can use just those words. The meeting at the Board of Trade this afternoon was unannounced, even to the candidates, and was organized by the same parties who called the first meeting, which also was practically unannounced, which pulled off on such short notice that many people interested could not arrange to attend. Neither of these meetings was authorized by anybody except the educational machine, as I term it, and the whole thing is an attempt, under the guise of the term 'citizens,' to run the Board of Education with a high hand."

"I advocate the placing of college men and teachers on the board, rather than men who clearly have some political object up their sleeve."

MORIN SAYS "NO."
Judge Magee presided at the meeting yesterday afternoon, and Leo McLaughlin acted as secretary. James W. Morin, an independent candidate, was the only one of the candidates there. He said he had no intention of sacrificing himself unless he was made to.

While investigating a burglary at the Los Robles station of the Santa Fe, a little more than three years ago, Slade met Miss Clara A. Agelino, who was then ticket agent there. He fell in love with her and married her. He was born April 17, 1871, in Milwaukee, Wis.

Before joining the police force, to which he was appointed June 4, 1905, Slade worked for two years as a government ranger in the vicinity of Pine Flat. An instance of his bravery was his arrest in January, 1904, of a former convict, E. Langdon, who had stolen two horses in Monrovia. Langdon was armed and more muscular than Slade, but the officer pulled the man out of his saddle, wrestled with him and finally put him in the stocks.

"Slade was the ideal police officer," said Chief Favour last night. "He was probably the best all around man in the department."

MODERN NEWSPAPER.
At the final meeting of the year of the Men's Club of the Presbyterian Church, last night, Rev. M. J. McLeod spoke on "The Modern Newspaper."

Dr. McLeod was, as usual, trenchant and interesting. His address made a hit. Among his comments were these:

"The work of the newspaper is to public property, and we are all interested in it. It is in a sense our daily food. It has become almost indispensable. They are our books. They serve us a banquet every morning, every evening. We all partake. We make as much use of it as the paper boy gives us the slip as if the chicken maid goes out for a walk and does not return. Sometimes we think the meal is not very nourishing. Indeed, sometimes we go further, and think that some of it is harmful. But of that anon. The influence they wield is enormous. They are our friends; they are our teachers; our critics; our judges; our educators; our leaders of thought and action. Roger Bacon said to have trouble when he discovered gunpowder, and for a time to have suppressed the discovery. I can well imagine an editor trembling as he holds his pen and contemplates that what he is writing will be read tomorrow morning by 50,000, maybe 60,000 people. He must be careful. To think of the possibilities for good or evil that lie in that steel stylus is enough to make any man tremble. Certainly it ought to make him tremendously serious."

"The North putting of a great metropolitan daily is to me an illustration of never-ceasing wonder. There is not another brain worker in the world, I am tempted to say, who carries the burden of the editor. The politician turning a campaign makes about fifty millions, but it's the same old story over and over. The only thing new is the audience. If a Congressman makes four or five speeches a session he is admired. George William Curtis once said: 'It takes me months to prepare a lecture, and how a clergyman can get up two sermons a week is a mystery.' But here is the editor. Every morning or evening that paper must appear, and it must be different from yesterday's issue and all the yesterday's issues. There are no vacations in the journalistic world. The sanctum is never closed. It is a stupendous, a colossal undertaking."

EDUCATIONAL STR.
A citizen's mass meeting has been called for this evening at the Board of Trade rooms to make an attempt to "weed out" the large number of candidates now before the Board of Education. Election takes place Friday. It is held by those fostering this meeting that with nine candidates in the field, three having been chosen at a citizens' meeting and six running independent, there is danger that the Board will be split that the Socialist ticket will win.

This public summons is the result of an impromptu meeting at the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon, at which a committee, composed of Lon F. Chapin, H. W. Hall and O. T. Nichols, was appointed to interview the various candidates at large and on the citizen's ticket, and to report at tonight's meeting.

CALLS IT "FRAME-UP."
Dr. W. A. Cundy, an independent candidate, expresses his opinion of the so-called citizens' meeting in forceful terms. "It is nothing but a frame-up," he said last night. "Pasadena is growing a political ring that ought to be busted, smashed—and you can use just those words. The meeting at the Board of Trade this afternoon was unannounced, even to the candidates, and was organized by the same parties who called the first meeting, which also was practically unannounced, which pulled off on such short notice that many people interested could not arrange to attend. Neither of these meetings was authorized by anybody except the educational machine, as I term it, and the whole thing is an attempt, under the guise of the term 'citizens,' to run the Board of Education with a high hand."

"I advocate the placing of college men and teachers on the board, rather than men who clearly have some political object up their sleeve."

MORIN SAYS "NO."
Judge Magee presided at the meeting yesterday afternoon, and Leo McLaughlin acted as secretary. James W. Morin, an independent candidate, was the only one of the candidates there. He said he had no intention of sacrificing himself unless he was made to.

PASADENA, June 2.—Standing on the veranda of her home, two doors north of the Santa Fe tracks on Madison avenue, waiting for her husband, Patrolman Jack Slade, to come to her birthday anniversary dinner, Mrs. Clara A. Slade saw him killed by San Bernardino local train No. 45 at 7:15 o'clock last night.

Slade approached the railroad tracks on his bicycle, and did not see the rapidly approaching train. The engine hit the rear wheel of his machine and the pilot bar is supposed to have hit his head. His skull was crushed and he died instantly. The body was tossed seventy-five feet and both legs were broken.

The remains were removed to Ives, Warren & Salisbury's undertaking establishment. Funeral arrangements have not been made, but the body will be in charge of the police department and Pasadena Encampment, No. 1, D.O.F., No. 4.

Police men will wear mourning bands on their coat sleeves today.

ANCIENT ITALY. ROMAN FARMER FINDS A TEMPLE.

WHILE CULTIVATING AN ARTI-
CHOKE FIELD NEAR CITY.

Seven Highly Sculptured Blocks
Uncovered Valued at More Than Sixty Thousand Dollars, All of Which Are in Good State of Preservation.

(From Correspondence New York Sun.)

Seven sculptural marble blocks were recently found in an artichoke field near Rome. The story of the find is doubly interesting as it supplies a good illustration of what happens to people who are indifferent enough to make discoveries of archaeological value in Italy.

There is a law in Italy which regulates the ownership of archaeological finds. The owner of the land, according to this law, is entitled to only three-fourths of the find, while the state takes the remaining fourth. In order to ascertain the value of the find there is a special commission composed of governmental officials.

Now, it often happens that the owner of the land is willing to pay cash for the one-fourth claimed by the state in order to acquire title to the entire property, and in such cases the commission, it is commonly believed, overestimates the value of the discovery. When, on the contrary, the owner of the land wants to sell, then it is charged the commission underestimates the value of the find. Furthermore, the owner cannot sell the find without special permission.

An instance of the way the law works is the case of a chemist at Cronate Tarquinia, the ancient Etruscan city. The chemist was engaged in excavating and he unearthed over 200 Etruscan tombs. Their furniture, in bronze, pottery, glass and silver, was of great value. The chemist also found a small altar, gold, silver and bronze.

Then a representative of the Archaeological Department arrived on the scene. The objects were sorted and divided into four equal portions—equal in quantity but not in value. Then the government archaeologist told the chemist that one portion, and he pointed to the part which included all the gold objects, the best specimens of vases and all the objects that were in the best state of preservation, was the share claimed by the state.

An appraisal showed that the one-fourth claimed by the state was worth double the value of the remaining collection. The chemist objected to such a deal, but finally had to consent. It should be needless to say that he had since given up searching Etruscan tombs.

As to the find in the artichoke field, a Neapolitan named Carmine had some money and looked around him to invest it well. He heard that a farmer owned some land on the Via Francigena, four kilometers outside Rome, which he wanted to sell, and he found out that the farmer was looking for artichokes and wished to try peas.

The land was not good for peas, Signor Carmine said, and it was excellent for artichokes. He had no partiality for any vegetable more than for any other, so he decided to buy it. The price paid was about $2000.

Carmine set about breaking the land, and one fine day while he was at work one of his men noticed that there was a large stone which he could not move. Signor Carmine went to his help, but even their united efforts could not move it.

Then Signor Carmine scraped some of the earth off the stone, and found that it was marble, and that there was a figure of a woman sculptured on it. Near by another block of marble similarly sculptured was discovered. Signor Carmine had the two blocks removed to the farmhouse, and continued digging on the same spot. He says that he discovered five other blocks of marble like the first two, and nothing else.

These blocks of marble are carved about 5 feet 2 inches high, 2 feet 2 inches wide and 1 foot 1 inch thick. When the first two were unearthed it required the united efforts of several strong men to remove them to the farmhouse. Signor Carmine called in help, and that help was his ruin.

Sombody informed the authorities of the discovery, and the next morning early saw officials on the spot, accompanied by the carabinieri. The head of the archaeological expedition found each marble block bore the figure of a dancing woman in leotards. They evidently belonged to the same monument, perhaps a sarcophagus, a fountain or some circular pedestal.

The head archaeologist got very angry. He reproached Signor Carmine for not giving immediate notice to the authorities, for continuing the excavation on the site, for covering over the ground, and so forth and so on. Signor Carmine replied that as the land was his own he was under the impression that he could do what he liked on it.

"No, you cannot!" shouted the archaeologist.

"Have me arrested, then," replied Signor Carmine.

The archaeologist got angrier, and his anger increased much more when on examining the seven blocks and measuring them he found that they were missing, as the circular pedestal had been composed of eight blocks.

"Where is the other block?" asked the archaeologist.

"They are all found," answered Signor Carmine.

"We must excavate for it," said the archaeologist.

"No, you won't," said Signor Carmine. The land is mine and I will not allow any excavations on it, as I intend growing artichokes.

Signor Carmine says that the struggle between him and the archaeologists, the first and many others who followed him, has been very hot, and it will continue.

"They say they won't let me sell the land," said Signor Carmine. "I answered I would consider the proposition. Then the commission determined the value of the discovery and said it was worth $60,000. They were willing to pay me $4,000 for my share. I said that was too little, as the find was worth $100,000 and my share should be $75,000."

"Now," continued Signor Carmine, "I shall wait until I get an offer from a foreign buyer. Of course, I will not be able to sell it, but then the offer will increase the value of the find and the archaeologists will have to pay me what I ask. If not I will keep the blocks here to adorn my farm, and I shall not allow them to excavate."

While Signor Carmine is engaged in the struggle and a representative of the Archaeological Department is mounting guard day and night at his farm the seven blocks are being examined by experts. Each block has a female figure in bas-relief in flowing tunics fastened under the bosom with a girdle. The figures are in the graceful attitude of dancing; hence they have been identified as Maenades or Bacchantes.

WAS WIFE POISONED?

death Mrs. Archer was an invalid. She went out to Sierra Madre several times in the hope of benefiting her health, and I visited her there on several occasions.

"Two days before her death she attended a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of which she was a member. Almost immediately afterward, on January 3 of this year, she was taken very ill, and I called Dr. Rooney. He called Dr. Duffield in consultation, but it seemed that there was no hope for her, and she died within a few hours.

"The body was sent back to Onida for interment, but I did not accompany it for the reason that it was winter, and my sons would not permit me to go. There was no effort on my part to solve the mystery, but my sons felt that it would be fatal for me to go back into a cold country at that time of year."

CONCERNING ESTATE.

Richard T. Archer, a lawyer, son of R. P. Archer, says the trouble arose over the administration of the estate of his grandmother.

"Mrs. Archer," he said, "left an estate of a total value of probably $3000. The bulk of this estate was left in the will to Mrs. Archer's two daughters, Mrs. Helen Marsh of Onida and Mrs. Kate Marshall of Deland, Fla. A bequest of $500 was made to my mother."

"Under the California law, it is necessary that the administrator be a resident of the State and in my opinion, it was appointed. It takes several months to adjust any estate, and the time is not yet up. At the proper time, Mrs. Archer's estate, except the $500 bequest to my mother, will go to Mrs. Archer's two daughters."

"Soon after the death of their mother, the daughters of Mrs. Archer came to California to look after the administration of the estate. Some trouble arose then because they could not take immediate charge, though the law does not permit it, and my opinion is that the proceedings recently taken at Onida are prompted by their desire at their failure to administer the estate."

Mr. Archer, who married Mrs. Carleton about three years ago, has lived in Los Angeles since 1903. He formerly was a resident of St. Louis. "Those who know him here speak highly of him and place no credence in the implied accusations contained in the reports from Onida."

COLLEGE MEN AND THINGS.

At the commencement exercises at the Hampton Normal and Agricultural Institute the announcement was made of President Taft's acceptance of a place on the board of trustees of the institution. In his letter the President said he "considered it an honor to be asked to join the board of trustees of what little he can to the continued success of the school." Dr. H. S. Fritchett of the school, in replying to Mr. Taft's letter, said: "Mr. Taft, by his acceptance, honors education and no less the high office of President in showing his interest in the educational methods of his country."

Prof. Henry Leland Chapman has just completed forty years' service as president of the University of Nebraska College, and recently he was the guest of honor at a faculty dinner.

The action of the board of regents of the University of Nebraska in selecting Acting Chancellor Avery for the position of chancellor has been received with pleasure by the student body of the school, and well by the people of Lincoln, who have known the acting chancellor for so many years. The new chancellor has outlined a broad program of policy for the conduct of the school, insofar as a public statement is concerned, but it is well known to be his intention to keep the institution from the inside, perfecting as much as possible those departments which now comprise the school before branching out into other departments which are better for carrying purposes than anything else.

The president of the University of Minnesota, at the age of 63 years, has distinguished himself by running a quarter of a mile to catch two students who had violated the rules of college discipline.

At Grinnell College a new form of student government has been inaugurated. According to this system, there will be a council of fourteen members, of whom eight will be seniors, three under-graduates and three members of the faculty. The purpose of the council is to furnish an adequate organization for the carrying out of various interests.

Norbert Wiener, the fourteen-year-old member of the senior class at Tufts College, is the most remarkable student of the present period. He is the son of Prof. Leo Wiener of Harvard, and is a remarkable linguist and all around student. By graduation next month he will win the distinction of being the youngest boy who has ever completed a regular course in college and gone forth with class honors.

EDUCATORS, CHURCHMEN.

PROF. ALBIN PUTZKER, for the past thirty-five years head of the German department of the University of California, has been retired from the university, and will be under the Carnegie foundation, and will not be seen in the classroom next year.

Prof. Putzker joined the faculty of the university in 1896, and has been in the classroom as an instructor since that time.

Miss Caroline Hazard, for the past ten years president of Wellesley College, is rumored to be intending to resign at the end of the year. She has not been in good health, which is the reason for her action.

Miss Vivian Small of the Latin department of Mt. Holyoke College has been elected president of Lake Erie College, Plainville, O. Miss Evans, who presided at Mt. Holyoke, was also a Mt. Holyoke graduate.

Alois Benseiger, the barefoot bishop of Malabar, has been in Chicago nearly a week. Since becoming bishop at Malabar, British India, he has gone barefoot and worn only the commonest sort of robe, renouncing all luxuries and living as the poorest person in his diocese. Long ago, he was known as "the barefoot bishop of Malabar," and European and American tourists to the Orient have for many years gone far out of their way to visit him.

Bishop Innocent of Alaska has been given the order of Vladimir by Emperor Nicholas. He visits to St. Russian missions in the north take him on long journeys over the winter trails. One year he has traveled 15,000 miles to visit the outposts of the Greek Orthodox church.

THE SUMMER HERO.

What do we care for financiers? For men who ride in aeroplanes? For artists great for men of state? For men with highly cultured brains?

These heroes, all of yesterday, look passing small to us just now. We've changed our style, just for this the man to whom we bow:

The red-necked chap who takes the bat when in the ninth he wins it. And makes no speech, nor stops to preach.

But just banks out a three-base hit. —Peoria Herald-Transcript.

MYSTERIOUS BLAZE.

Fire Chief and Police Seek Origin of Flames That Damaged Broadway Furniture Store.

Fire Chief Lips and the police are seeking the origin of a fire which early yesterday morning caused $15,000 damage to the Gooden & Jenkins furniture store at No. 733 South Broadway. The suspicious of the authorities are aroused because the flames were discovered in a corrugated iron shed which adjoins the three-story brick structure on the rear, and which was filled with excelsior, pine boxes and other inflammable materials.

Proprietors of the store state that there were no electric wires or other sources from which flames could originate in the shed. When the firemen arrived the flames were leaping high into the air and entered the building through doors and windows. All three floors were stocked with furniture and damage resulted in each of the landings.

On the second and third floors the loss was mostly from water and heat. On the first floor the flames had eaten through the ceiling before they were controlled by the firemen. The proprietors of the store state their loss is practically covered by insurance.

MIDDIES MUSTN'T MARRY.

President Taft Approves Change Which Prohibits Matrimony for Six Years.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Taft approved today a change in the naval regulations recommended by Secretary Meyer by which midshipmen are prohibited from marrying until the completion of the prescribed six years' course of training.

Permission of the Secretary of the Navy has been sought by a number of midshipmen who desired to be allowed to marry after their graduation from the naval academy and by others while they are on their two years' tour of instruction at sea.

The naval academy regulations forbid any midshipman from marrying while at the academy, but do not apply to midshipmen who have graduated and are serving at sea.

No order existed in the United States naval regulations preventing the midshipmen from marrying, and today's change in the regulations provides an absolute prohibition.

HARMFUL MEDICINES

cannot be sold by any druggist in America today except under penalty of the law. This is what the Pure Food and Drug Law has accomplished for the people. Such standard preparations, however, as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for thirty years has stood the test of time and complies with all conditions of this law, will continue to be sold by every reputable druggist in the land.

From there the visitors will be taken to the Chamber of Commerce, where a public reception will be held from 9 until 11 o'clock. The ladies who will assist Mrs. Jussierand in receiving will be Mrs. Jussierand, J. C. Merrill, W. H. Booth, J. P. Jones, E. N. Brunvand, George Alexander, Marc Durand, W. E. Edwards, Perry Weidner, M. H. Flint, Joseph Scott, Hancock, Banning, Hugh McNeil, W. Jarvis Barlow, Cornelius Cole and Barlow-French.

President Booth will preside. The Mayor will deliver an address of welcome. Dr. John Willis Baer, president of Occidental College, and J. A. Auland of the Alliance Francaise will also speak. It is desired that the affair be well attended by the public, and every one is welcome.

Ambassador and Mme. Jussierand will leave here tomorrow for San Francisco, where they will be met by the French Consulate. The Ambassador will present a gold medal to the city, commemorating the recovery from the destructive fire of 1906. The medal is the gift of the French republic, and is a mark of the friendly interest of wear a white gown without fear of soiling it."

The Jussierands came from Chicago in the private car of George T. Nicholson, third vice-president of the Santa Fe, from Albuquerque. Harold H. Moore, a veteran passenger agent of the company, was in personal charge of the party. He spoke in highest praise of the uniform courtesy and thoughtfulness of the Jussierands.

At the Grand Cañon, a little feature of the sight-seeing was an informal meal served at a little restaurant on the bank of the chasm.

Ever since the Ambassador left Chicago he has been making copious notes of things of interest. He is especially concerned with civic problems and has made a study of life in the great centers of this country. Before returning East he will gather data concerning irrigation fruit in semi-arid regions.

"I am trying to get information at first hand," said he. "There is something to learn every day. I am intensely interested in America, and in what she has to make up her greatness. Thousands of Frenchmen have settled in this country and I am interested in their progress. As I travel I jot down notes of what I hear and see."

PASADENA WELCOME.

When the Santa Fe train, to which the private car of the Jussierands was attached, reached Pasadena, a representative body of citizens was on the platform to extend greetings of both the Crown City and of Los Angeles. Mayor Earley of the former city warmly welcomed the travelers, and attached, reached Pasadena, a representative body of citizens was on the platform to extend greetings of both the Crown City and of Los Angeles.

The Reception Committee was composed of members of the local French colony, representatives of the city, and of bodies of both cities and of officers of the Alliance Francaise.
